L. James Wilson, a family practice physician in Augusta and a member of the Sacred Heart Hospital medical staff, has received the Physician's Alzheimer's Award from the Wisconsin Information and Training Center in Milwaukee for his work in caring for patients with Alzheimer's disease. Wilson helped initiate an Alzheimer's support group and a local chapter of the Alzheimer's Disease and Related Disorder Association. He also has provided educational information about Alzheimer's and other forms of dementia to the community and medical specialists.
