

Larry Wilson
Vice President
Norwest Bank

“LARRY Wilson is the ideal role model for any working individual,” says an officer at Norwest Bank in La Crosse. “He is very sincere and interested in being an asset to his profession and his personal friends. I’ve never seen him confront a task without having the goal of doing an outstanding and thorough job. He is a tireless worker.”

Wilson was in the top 10 percent of his class in the graduate school of banking and was an officer in the Navy.

The list of other organizations he’s been involved in include YMCA, Jaycees, United Way, and the March of Dimes. For the March of Dimes, Wilson served as both a treasurer and board member. And he used his professional expertise and interest in computers to develop a computerized banking system for the organization.

Wilson’s career-related activities include numerous offices in the Bank Administrative Institute, including president of the Coulee Region Chapter.

“Working with Larry is a pleasure,” one organization member says. “I gain a spark of energy every time he attends a meeting.”
